WOMEN RAID PARLIAMENT

Suffragettes Make Supreme Efforts to Interview Premier Asquith

CORDON OF POLICE PROVES TOO STRONG

Raiders Are Repulsed and Over One Hundred Taken Into Custody

London, June 29.—The thirteenth vain attempt of the militant suffragettes to obtain access to Premier Asquith by deputation resulted in exciting scenes in parliament square and the arrests of more than 100 women. The plan of the raid, followed the lines previously employed by the suffragettes. The women's parliament assembled in Caxton hall at 8 o'clock in the evening, and sent a deputation, headed by Mrs. Pankhurst, to endeavor to see the prime minister, who had previously decided not to receive the deputation. Enormous crowds of lookers assembled in the vicinity of parliament before the time for the raid upon the house, around which large bodies of police, numbering several thousands, had taken up strategic positions. The first noteworthy incident was the arrest, after a great deal of trouble, of a piquet equestrian suffragette, who tried to penetrate the police cordon to take a message to the premier. Next appeared the deputation under command of Mrs. Pankhurst, and it was received by the crowd with wild cheers. Escorted by the police, the deputation arrived at the entrance of the house, where it was met by Chief Inspector Scamell, who handed Mrs. Pankhurst a letter from the premier regretting his inability to receive the deputation. Angerily throwing the letter on the ground, Mrs. Pankhurst exclaimed: "I send my rights as the King's subject to enter the house," and she endeavored to force an entrance. The police tried to induce the women to disperse quietly and then began to take the members of the deputation by the arm and lead them away. To the surprise of the spectators who were massed around the entrance, Mrs. Pankhurst slapped Inspector Jarvis, knocking his cap in the mud. There were cries of "shame," and several of the spectators told the suffragettes' leader that she had no provocation to do such a thing.

Great Crowd Present

London is becoming accustomed to suffragette raids on parliament, but the idea that a more determined attempt than ever was to be made tonight on Premier Asquith's forces attracted an enormous crowd to the parliament buildings. Probably 50,000 gathered at the scene, but the authorities had made ample preparations to deal with the situation. All avenues of approach were guarded by police and ambulances were provided to deal with cases of accidents. Within the cordon were a very large number of members of both houses of parliament, watching the scene, and scores of ladies in dinner wraps and men in evening dress. Among these were Lord and Lady Granard, Lord Morley, Lord Wolverhampton and Lord Althorp. Just after this the prime minister himself drove away from the house unobserved by the crowd. At Caxton hall were Mrs. Israel Zangwill, Miss Beatrice Forbes-Robertson, Miss Elizabeth Robbins and Miss Beatrice Braden, besides all the well known suffragette leaders.

Bold Rider

Great excitement was caused among the crowd by the movements of an equestrian suffragette, Miss Howe, in riding habit and bowler hat rode backwards and forwards, carrying messages between the different deputations, and who ultimately was arrested. Throughout the demonstration the police behaved with the utmost forbearance, but the suffragettes in many cases forced them to do a certain amount of rough handling. There was much screaming, and in some cases fainting, and many women had to be taken to the hospitals in a state of collapse.

The great crowds indulged in considerable horseplay, but generally no active sympathy was extended to the suffragettes.

At 8 o'clock the police had orders to clear the whole vicinity of parliament, and they gradually pressed the crowd back. One policeman's horse was stabbed by a man in the crowd, and a constable was badly injured. The first deputation was composed of Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Solomon, Miss Margesson, Mrs. Haverfield, Miss Joachim, Mrs. Mansell, wife of Col. Mansell and granddaughter of the late Lord Wimborne, Mrs. Frank Corbett, sister-in-law of a member of the house, Miss Nellie, who is 79 years of age. These were all arrested. Another woman placed under arrest was Mrs. Rose Massey, wife of Col. Massey.

According to one report, Inspector Jarvis will bring a charge of assault against Mrs. Pankhurst. When the latter resolutely declined to budge from the entrance of the house of commons, the inspector pressed forward his arms and pushed the woman away. Mrs. Pankhurst struck him in the face, according to some witnesses, more than once. The inspector quickly picked up his helmet and continued pressing the deputation back.

Mrs. Solomon then struck him. Dr. Clifford, one of the supporters of the suffragette movement, and several members of the house, who witnessed the scene, cried "Shame." Dr. Clifford, in an interview afterwards said that he greatly regretted Mrs. Pankhurst's action. Such things, he said, helped to lock the lips of the advocates of women's rights. "I have supported women's suffrage for many years," he added, "but when I see such scenes as this, how can I say anything?"

BYRON WHITE LOSES

Privy Council Refuses Leave to Appeal in Famous Slocan Mining Case

Nelson, B. C., June 29.—Word was received here from London tonight that the Privy Council had refused leave to appeal in the suit of the Byron M. White Company vs. the Star Mining and Milling Company, the famous Slocan extra-territorial rights mining case. John M. Harris, son of the B. C. full court and before the supreme court at Ottawa, after years of costly litigation, and now Byron M. White's appeal to the privy council has been refused, thus ending the celebrated case, and leaving John M. Harris, the plaintiff, victor.

The parties and property are well known in the western mining world.

YUKON COUNCIL

First Completely Elective Body Chosen by Electors of District on Monday

Dawson, June 29.—The first wholly elective Yukon council was chosen in the election held yesterday. The results show the following are elected:

Klondike district—Max Landreville and Angus William McLeod, both Liberals.

North Dawson—Andrew H. Smith, Conservative; Jas. W. Murphy, Liberal.

Bonanza district—R. L. Ashbaugh and Frank McAlpine, both Conservatives.

White Horse district—Robert Lowe and Phelps, both Liberals.

The few outlying returns to be received are not expected to change any results. The only possibility for change seems to be in the Klondike district.

RESIGNATION OF MR. LUMSDEN

Suspicious That Classification Scandal Caused His Action

Ottawa, June 29.—It is understood that another inquiry into the classification along the National Transcontinental Railway will be ordered on the ground that the one recently concluded was incomplete.

It is not expected that there will be any delay in appointing a successor to Chief Engineer Lumsden, of the G. T. P. His salary was $6,000, and it is probable that the government will have to pay a larger amount in order to get a capable successor.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The resignation of Mr. Lumsden was not altogether unexpected here, where the news is received, according to the political stripe of the party interested, as either confirmation of the Hodgins charges regarding classification or as an isolated personal act, having but small bearing on the actual building of the Transcontinental. The Free Press offers no comment editorially, but the Telegram gives prominence to an Ottawa special to the effect that Mr. Lumsden's resignation was prepared to refuse on the part of the G.T.P. to take over the road when completed. Local Liberals have nothing to say other than that the incident is unfortunate, and it is to be hoped that it will not unduly prejudice the completion of the National Transcontinental project, in which the west is so deeply interested. On the other hand, Tories say it is nothing less than they expected, for it is common gossip that classification has been done in favor of the contractor rather than of the government, and that Mr. Lumsden, for one, did not intend to sink his reputation as a railroad man in the business. "They are building up a big campaign fund out of over-classification for contractors," said one politician this morning, "and this man Lumsden refuses to be made a catspaw."

DROWNED AT FERNIE

Foolhardy Attempt to Swim Elk River Ends in Death for W. T. Jones

Fernie, June 29.—W. T. Jones, aged about 40, with a wife and three children, was drowned in the Elk river here at 12 o'clock last night. Jones and three companions were going home. Jones, who is supposed to have been drunk, went to swim the river. The current is very strong, and he was never seen after. George Wilde, one of Jones' companions, made a heroic swim to try and save Jones. Wilde is a very powerful swimmer, and crossed the river twice, but could not find Jones. Search parties are spread all along the river to Morrissey looking for the body. Jones is an old timer here and at Michel. He was fire boss at No 9 mine, Coal Creek.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 29.—Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of public works, is here. He arrived from the east this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Pugsley and Miss McDonald, of Ottawa. This morning they were entertained on the bay on the tug James Walen, by James Connee, M.P., and other citizens. This afternoon he turned the first sod of the mammoth docks and ship-building yard at Current river. Tonight he was a guest of the Canadian Club, at the Algoma Hotel, at a banquet, and delivered an address.

Street Preachers Fined.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The street preachers who refused to abstain from holding public meetings on the streets, although ordered to do so by the police, were fined in the police court today.

STILL SEARCH FOR OUTLAW

Murderer of Officer Decker Traced Some Distance by Bloodhounds

WAS NOT HIDING IN MINE TUNNEL

Theory That He May Have Been Joined by Third Boat Occupant

Ashcroft, June 29.—Two men he dead at Ashcroft today, one a western desperado, probably a member of a highwayman's gang of the Western United States, and the other, Special Police Officer Isaac Decker, as the outcome of a gun duel fought last night.

The shooting occurred on the bank of the North Thompson river just above the town. While the policeman and the bandit were being killed two score of the village people looked on, horror-stricken, but unable to prevent or lend a hand to prevent the tragedy.

Amid the excitement that followed, the assassin of the police officer escaped up river and there probably joined a third member of the train-robbing gang who had been seen with the other two men earlier in the day, when the trio floated past Penny's station on the turbulent waters of the Thompson.

With two Spokane bloodhounds leading the way, two posses of armed men this morning left Ashcroft on the fresh trail of the desperado who eluded pursuit from Ashcroft last night.

Five miles east of Ashcroft they found where the bandit had slept in the brush during the early morning. His tracks were easily traceable for a mile further to a point in Red Gulch where there are two or three old mining tunnels. In one of these the man is believed to be hiding.

While this man may be alone, there is a strong probability that at some point near the river the man who helped to make the discovery of the body of the other, the third in the boat yesterday morning. It is known that at a point even three miles above Ashcroft there were still three in the little craft; and the officers who examined the ground this morning believe it is more than probable that two men and not one rested in the brush at the point of discovery this morning.

The river between here and Savonina's is being closely patrolled on both sides. It is expected that the outlaw will be captured within the next 24 hours.

Not in Tunnel.

Vancouver, June 29.—Having searched unsuccessfully the unused mine workings of Red Gulch, famous in the early mining days of Cariboo, the police tonight came to the conclusion that the two train robbers, one of whom last night killed Policeman Decker at Ashcroft, had made their escape to some unknown camp in the mountains. Before noon today, Dr. J. Spoke's bloodhounds had led the officers over the fresh trail of the desperado who killed Decker to a point where he had probably been joined by the third member of the gang. The officers were so sure that their quarry was hemmed in amongst the tunnels of old Red Gulch, that they sat down and guarded the exits, and sent back for reinforcements. Early this evening a search was made of the tunnels, which showed that the man was not there. Tomorrow morning the country will be scoured widely. A C.P.R. locomotive is in readiness for emergencies. The robbers are without food, and the police believe they must show up at some farm house for supplies. On the other hand they may have escaped towards Vancouver by freight train.

SOME RESULTS OF CONFERENCE

Proposed Reduction of Cable Rates Is Generally Well Received

London, June 29.—Yesterday saw the last functions in connection with the imperial press conference. At the suggestion of Hamar Greenwood, M.P., Winston Churchill, president of the board of trade, and Mrs. Churchill gave a garden party in the hard of trade gardens. A very distinguished company, including dukes and lords and commoners, were present to greet the overseas delegates.

A newspaper states that the executive of the imperial press conference is considering an imperial press bureau, to be established in London, but it is thought there is no truth in the statement.

Canada is the only one of the illustrated weeklies to publish a special supplement with pictures of the imperial press conference. The Chronicle was the only London paper reporting fully the speeches of Canadian and other delegates.

Josiah Thomas, formerly postmaster-general of Australia, writes to J. Henricker Heaton: "Can you do something to stir up Canadians to provide for a state-owned land telegraph line across Canada. The unsatisfactory working of privately-owned lines is interfering very seriously with the Pacific cable."

Melbourne, June 29.—The Argus and the Age have announced the reduction in the Pacific cable rates, but makes no comment. The reduction is insufficient to break the monopoly, but a further substantial reduction would ensure the early appearance of new cables. Premier Deakin welcomes the reduction.

Christchurch, June 29.—It is the universal opinion in New Zealand that if the imperial press conference has done nothing else, its advocacy of cheaper cablegrams to newspapers would have amply justified its meeting. The reduction in cable rates does not mean additional profits to newspapers, for the saving so effected would be put into improving and enlarging the present service.

WORK OF INCENDIARY

Storehouse of Cariboo Consolidated Mining Company Destroyed on Sunday

Quesnel Forks, B. C., June 29.—Fire broke out in the store room at Bullion occupied by J. B. Hobson, at 1 o'clock on Sunday, completely destroying the building and contents.

The loss is between twenty and thirty thousand dollars, partly insured. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Not Substantiated.

Vancouver, June 29.—The charge of theft which yesterday was laid against W. Hannah, a maker-up of berths on the Princess Charlotte, was this morning withdrawn. G. N. Eaton, a fur-buyer on leasing the boat had left his wallet, containing $920 and a cheque for $218 behind in his berth. When he discovered his loss the wallet had disappeared and Hannah was charged with theft and taken to jail. The cheque was found on the boat later, but the money had never been returned. The case against Hannah was merely circumstantial and nothing could be substantiated by those detailed from the police department to investigate.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOSPITAL

Jubilee Needs Sum of $100,000—Election of Directors

The annual meeting of subscribers and donors to the Royal Jubilee Hospital was held in the board of rooms yesterday, with F. B. Pemberton presiding. The business consisted of the hearing of the different reports, and the election of four directors. The following directors were elected: A. C. Plummerfelt, Aleck Wilson, H. E. Newton, and Mrs. Rhodes.

Reports were read from the directors, the resident medical officer, the treasurer, and the matron, as follows:

Directors' Report.
The directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital have much pleasure in presenting their report upon the working of the institution during the 19th year of its existence.

The nurses' home, the contract for which was reported a year ago, has been completed and was formally opened on January 5, last. The home, with stone foundation and slate roof, is substantially built and has cost, furnished, $18,750.58. Shingles have been removed from the roofs of all the hospital premises and replaced with P. & B. at a cost of $1,875.93. A thoroughly modern X-ray apparatus has been purchased at a cost of $663.80, but it is not yet in use for need of a suitable room. It was not deemed wise to utilize a private room from which revenue is derived and no funds are available for the construction of another.

Requirements.
For the same reason the painting of the exterior of the buildings has been postponed, and many other improvements have likewise been deferred. Nor does it appear probable that these necessary improvements can be carried out under present conditions, for the consequence of the opening of the children's ward and basement of that wing, providing about 20 additional beds from which very little revenue is received, with only one additional private room from which revenue is procurable, to meet the largely increased operating expenses, it is at present very difficult to make ends meet, and the Hon. treasurer's financial statement for the past 12 months shows that the expenses have exceeded revenue by about $1,900. This matter has been receiving the attention of a special committee of the directors.

Chapel.
Through the thoughtful kindness and generosity of Mrs. J. D. Pemberton, of "Gonzales," a chapel for the use of all Christian denominations has been added to the hospital. It is well and solidly built and space has been found in the basement for a much needed work and meeting room for the Women's Auxiliary. The chapel will be completely furnished, including a fine organ. The warm thanks of the board are gratefully tendered to Mrs. Pemberton for this useful gift.

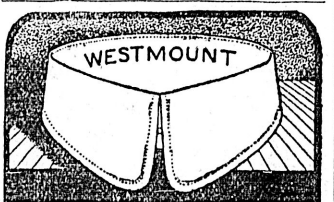

New Wing.
The building committee have under consideration the construction of a new wing to contain about 50 private rooms complete with all necessary appointments. This undertaking will be submitted to the ratepayers of Victoria for their approval and assistance.

Maternity Home.
The need of a maternity home in connection with this hospital was long since recognized and the sum of about $12,000 is now available towards its construction and equipment. It is considered that a further sum of at least $3,000 should be obtained before the work is commenced.

Resident Medical Staff.
On the 15th of May, Dr. E. A. Wallace completed his engagement at this hospital as assistant medical officer and was succeeded by Dr. Norman J. Paul. Dr. Wallace performed the various duties assigned to him with great satisfaction to all concerned and left the hospital with the director's best wishes.

Auxiliaries.
A record of the work of the Women's Auxiliary will be found in the pamphlet containing this report. Their valuable cooperation has at all times been of the greatest assistance to the directors and is again acknowledged with thanks. The directors are also indebted and thank the Daughters of the City and the King's Daughters for their good offices on behalf of this hospital.

Donors.
The directors thank the donors named by the honorary treasurer and record their appreciation of the interest shown in their efforts on behalf of the sick poor. They also desire to acknowledge, with thanks, the generosity of the Honorable James Dunsmyth in supplying the hospital with coal at the very low price made some years ago. The directors are also indebted to and thank the Victoria, British Columbia, Board of Trade for the use of their rooms for holding meetings; Mr. J. S. H. Matsen for free copies of the Colonist, and the Times Printing and Publishing Company for free copies of the Victoria Daily Times newspaper.

Staff.
The directors also thank the visiting medical and surgical staff, resident medical officers, matron and staff, who by their untiring good services, have done so much to promote the welfare of the patients and efficiency of the hospital.

Appendices.
Attention is directed to the detailed information which will be found in the reports of the honorary treasurer, the audited accounts and the reports of the resident medical officer and matron, which are appended hereto.

Treasurer's Report

Victoria, B. C., June 26, 1909.

Gentlemen—I submit herewith the annual statement of receipts and disbursements.

The overdraft on current account has been increased from $977.63 to $1,500.44.

The expenditure of $49,953.43 shows an increase of $2,356.07 due in part to a larger day's stay of patients treated.

The income exceeds that of the previous year by $2,128.30, which is due to an increased grant from the city, the other sources of income having decreased. Of these the income from pay patients has fallen off $153.72.

There remains in the Bank of Montreal, in the joint names of the honorary treasurer and the secretary of the Women's Auxiliary the sum of $43.20 for the children's ward.

The bachelors' donation towards the maternity ward has been added to during the year by donations of $100 from the Victoria-Phoenix Breeding company, Limited, and $50 from Mr. David Dolg.

These were deposited in the savings bank department of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. With interest added to the 31st day of May, 1909, this account amounts to $313.95.

ROBERT S. DAY, Hon. Treasurer.

Medical Officer's Report

Gentlemen—I beg to submit my report for the year ending May 31, 1909.

The total number of patients treated this year as compared with last is as follows:

In patients, 1908, 1,104; 1909, 1,052
Out patients, 1908, 109; 1909, 85

Total, 1908, 1,213; 1909, 1,137

The total collective day's stay shows an increase as compared with last year. The figures for 1908 are 25,936, and for 1909, 26,184, an increase of 248 days' stay. In spite of the number of patients treated being less than last year the daily average number of patients was 71.73, as against 71.05 for last year.

The cost of maintenance this year was $49,953.43; last year $47,597.36. This is accounted for by the increased day's stay and the consequent increase of food, and also the cost of extra fuel, light, water and service in the nurses' home.

The above figures account for the cost of maintenance of each patient per diem, amounting to $1.90½, as against $1.83½ for last year.

I would again urge on the directors the urgent need there is for providing a separate building for incurable cases such as advanced cases of phthisis, cancer, tuberculosis and gangrene, which are a source of distress and danger to other patients and have had in many cases, as there is no special provision for them, to be isolated in private rooms.

The new X-ray apparatus is at present—

PURITY FLOUR

PURITY FLOUR is not a cheap flour in price. But price is not all that is to be considered when buying flour. Like everything else the low-priced flour may be the most expensive in the end. A few cents more for a bag of flour that gives more loaves of bread—and bread of far better quality—is the best kind of economy.

It is for this last reason that we ask you to buy a bag of PURITY FLOUR and try it for yourself. Let it cost a few cents more per bag than some other flour you have used, if that is the case. PURITY FLOUR will give you more bread than the other. The bread will be of better flavor and color and will prove more nutritious. It will prove a saving to you in quantity, and in all-round satisfaction.

That is the basis on which we ask you to start using PURITY FLOUR. If it was not in every way worth the price it is sold for it would not command the enormous sale it has all over Canada. You will find, as so many thousands of others are finding every day, that PURITY FLOUR is the best flour for economy and for good results that you can use.

Buy a bag of PURITY FLOUR when next you need flour. Don't merely order "a bag of flour" and leave it to the grocer. You should be the one to decide what you will have. You are paying for it. Say to the grocer, "send me a bag of PURITY FLOUR," and get it.

MASS OF BEAUTY AT ROSE SHOW

Finer and More Varied Exhibits
Mark Fourth Annual Event
Which Opened Yesterday

Larger exhibits of finer quality, many of the rarest kind of flowers, which have hitherto been strangers to the flora lovers of Victoria, characterize the fourth annual rose show of the Victoria Horticultural society which opened yesterday afternoon at the Assembly Rink, Fort Street, in the open air. The show is an event of the year, and doubt the most successful of any hitherto held by the society and the many Victorians who thronged the rink yesterday afternoon and evening were loud in their praises of the quality and arrangement of the exhibits. To those public spirited men and women who have made this yearly event such a success the greatest credit is due.

While many of the exhibits were not delivered at the rink until yesterday morning everything was in readiness when promptly at 2 o'clock the show was declared open to the public. The profusion of beautiful examples of the rose family together with a great mass of other plants, and ferns used in the decorative scheme, make the rink a veritable bower of beauty.

Exquisite Decorations.

The decoration committee composed of Mrs. Henry Croft, Mrs. F. S. Barnard, Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Mrs. Beaven, Mrs. Wollaston and others have performed their work exceedingly well. Mrs. Henry Croft's beautiful collection of rare ferns and palms occupied a prominent position at the entrance of the hall. Mrs. Pemberton, "Gonzales," in addition to a splendid collection of begonias also sent peonies and roses while a large number of peonies of dark crimson, added to the beautiful effect of the finest decorative scheme hitherto attempted at the show. Mrs. Matson, Mrs. F. W. Jones, Mrs. Croft and others also contributed small collections of peonies and roses, which while not entered in competition proved exceedingly attractive and located in large bowls throughout the hall rounded out the decorative scheme most effectively. The tables, gallery and walls of the rink have been tastefully decorated with bunting of a soft green shade which harmonizes well with the bloom of the floral display.

General Excellence.

In the private displays the judges found it a hard matter to make awards. In every instance the quality and size of the exhibits were better than at any previous show, and honors were evenly shared. The trade exhibits are also of the first quality. Those made by the Flewin and Lansdowne greenhouses, and James Sinclair, are declared by Judge Lewis Russell to be the finest he had ever seen, and in fact both amateur and professional exhibitors call forth the hearty commendation of the experts, who call attention particularly to the grading and the care with which they have been arranged.

In the private exhibits Mrs. H. R. Beaven captured the silver medal for the best collection of roses, 12 varieties of one bloom each, shown singly, named, and to Mr. Justice Martin went honors for the best collection of six roses, one bloom each, shown singly, named. Professional Exhibits.

In the professional exhibits that of the Lansdowne greenhouses is remarkably good. The showing of hardy perennials, English, German and French Iris, peonies, delphiniums, camphila plants and pyrethums are a testimony to the firm's ability to grow high class flowers. The flower houses are also right to the fore with a splendid and well arranged exhibit, including delphiniums, magnificent specimens of black calla lilies, Iceland poppies and columbine. The exhibit of roses is with the possible exception of the showing of the double white pinks, the best in this entry. The Lansdowne greenhouses exhibit of roses also attracted widespread attention.

In cosy tea rooms at the north end of the rink, prettily decorated, Miss Angus presided and dispensed dainty refreshments to the many who attended the show. The awards made by the judges were as follows:

MORE TENDERS FOR PAVEMENT

First Bids for Wharf Street Improvement Turned Down

Owing to the fact that the tenders for the Wharf street asphalt pavement was not put in a form whereby the cost of the work could be adequately figured, and owing partly, also, to the fact that the city desires full tenders without any provision being made for extras, the tenders already in will be turned down, and new tenders called for to be in by 4 o'clock on Monday, July 12.

In the tenders submitted ten days ago, figures for the total work of paving and also figures for various pieces of the work, which might be called extras, were submitted. A special committee composed of Mayor Hall and Aldermen Turner and Henderson, with the City Engineer and Building Inspector, was appointed to figure out the total cost in each case. As two of the tenders, those submitted by H. E. Canova and Messrs. Steven, Sabine and Steadham could not be figured out, each of the tenderers were asked to put in a supplementary tender giving a gross figure for the work. Mr. Canova's final figures were $16,000 for the entire work, while the aggregate tender of Messrs. Steven, Sabine, and Steadham was $16,045.

It was decided, however, that in view of the fact that the tenderers were called upon to estimate on work which they have no means of ascertaining the extent of, such as rock blasting, it would be better to ask for tenders for each part of the work at so much per yard, and they be furnished with proper profile and cross section plans on which to figure.

THE DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE.

We are able to give this morning a synopsis of the work done by the Victoria Branch of the Vancouver Island Development League since its organization two and a half months ago. The synopsis was presented at a meeting of the Executive yesterday for the information of the Aldermen, who had been appointed by the City Council to represent that body on the committee. It was felt that they ought to be informed of what the league had done, and it seemed only reasonable to give the information to the public. There are several reasons why this is a proper thing to do. One of them is that the league is expending money subscribed by the citizens, and will have the expenditure of a certain sum to be contributed by the City Council. It is therefore right that the public should know just what is being done with the money. It is also desirable that the people should be put in touch with the league's work as a matter of general knowledge and in order that such cooperation may be given by those interested as seems within their power. Possibly also those persons who have not yet contributed to the funds of the league, may feel induced when they know what is being done, to give it some financial aid. One of the weak features about the old Tourist Association was that it did not keep the people as well informed as it might have done about its work.

We think the showing made in the synopsis will prove highly satisfactory to everyone. Necessarily much of the success of the league depends upon the secretary, and it is no flattery to say that in Mr. Ernest McGaffey the league has an exceedingly efficient officer. He is not content with a perfunctory discharge of the duties which the league imposes upon him, but is constantly on the outlook for new lines of effort and he has had great success in discovering them.

BRITISH COLUMBIA POLITICS.

About a week ago the Inland Sentinel, which is a staunch and able supporter of the Liberal party, commenting upon the visit of Mr. McBride and his colleagues to the interior, lamented that nothing was being done to get the Liberal party in shape for a provincial election. Our contemporary finds it hard to realize that there is really no local politics in this province at the present time. The people of British Columbia are very well satisfied with things as they are. A prominent Vancouver Liberal said a day or two ago that there was not a constituency in the province that could be counted upon as safely Liberal, and that they would be puzzled to find five men in Vancouver willing to sacrifice themselves in the party interest. Indeed it would occasion very little surprise if at the next election every constituency returned government supporters. The reason of this is right on the face of facts known to all men. The McBride government is administering affairs in a business-like way; the country is prosperous, and there are no scandals of any kind. Our Liberal friends in the legislature have been fairly active critics of the administration, and they have contributed something to the initiation and perfecting of useful legislation; but they have inaugurated no new policy, and have taken issue with the government upon no matters of importance. It may be said with a good deal of truth that the government's measures have been of such a kind that they could not be opposed on principle; and that in more than one instance those measures only gave expression to what was already in the public mind. But therein lies the secret of successful administration. The aim of a government ought to be to formulate such policies as meet the wishes of the people, except in such rare instances as demand something radically different from anything that has been already considered. Mr. McBride found the province in financial embarrassment; his first effort was to place it in a sound position. Having done this, his proper course was to adopt from time to time such measures as the progress of the province called for. He has done this conservatively; and although some people call themselves Liberal in politics, the very great majority, no matter what name they may affect, favor conservative legislation. Mr. McBride has shown himself strong in the advocacy of the rights of the province as he understands them, and he has been strengthened before the people by the harsh criticism that has been made of his course in that regard. Given those who think his views have been mistaken, commend his determined stand for what he thinks is right. Take the right of the province in the fisheries. No doubt there are differences of opinion among those qualified to judge as to the strength of the claim advanced by the provincial government; but there is no difference of opinion as to the duty of the government to advance its claim as its law officers advise it exists, and thus secure an authoritative decision. Friends, not opponents, are made for the provincial ministry by attacks upon its course in such matters.

The Liberal machine in the province—we do not use the expression in any offensive sense, but only to avoid circumlocution—will naturally feel like keeping the provincial organization alive; but it is notorious that few of the people are disposed to carry Dominion politics into provincial elections. The administration of the affairs of the province is a business proposition, and the people, who have everything to gain from orderly and stable administration, will not vote a government out, if it is doing well, simply because the members of that government happen to be on a certain side of federal politics. Mr. McBride and his colleagues occupy a position of remarkable strength, and they owe it not to the fact that they are Conservatives, but to the excellent record made by them since they took office. This is about the way politics in British Columbia local affairs stand today.

"VISIONARY" PROJECTS.

Every now and then some wise man recommends the people of Victoria not to concern themselves about visionary projects. It is somewhat remarkable that everything connected with the North American Continent, since and including the voyage of Columbus to discover it, has been denounced as visionary. Five years after George Stephenson opened the first railway in the world, John Wilson, of St. Andrews, New Brunswick, proposed that a railway should be built from that town to Quebec. He was laughed at as visionary, but he succeeded in interesting some other visionaries and after a time the line was begun. Then the practical men got in their work and demonstrated that such a railway never could be any possibility pay, and the work was abandoned after about ninety miles of road had been built, and in that condition it was left until it became little more than "two streaks of rust and the right of way," whereupon some other visionary fellows began to build branches to it. Then another visionary man built another railway, and then those two visionary creatures, George Stephen and Donald Smith, as they were then, fancied that these several roads would make a valuable property. A visionary newspaper man was asked to get together all the facts relating to the country and show what business could be developed, and after he had done so the two visionary capitalists bought the roads, which were afterwards sold to and now form a very profitable part of the Canadian Pacific. Some years ago there lived in Nova Scotia a visionary man named Haliburton. He was a man who wrote books. He went to live in England and while there wrote a letter to the papers suggesting that a railway should be built from Halifax to Esquimaux. At that time there was no such thing as a transcontinental railway. All the wise men thought the author of Sam Slick must surely be in his dotage to suggest such a thing. We know now how visionary he was. Another Nova Scotian, who is still with us and seeing visions of things to come, lent his powerful aid in making the Canadian Pacific a reality. But to come nearer home. It was only two or three years ago that some one saw a vision of a hotel on what were then the tide flats. The very people who built it declared the project visionary when it was first proposed. In those primeval days, when we used to depend upon such craft as the George E. Starr, the North Pacific, and the Utopia to get across to the Sound, some exceedingly visionary people actually believed that by trying we could secure better boats. So they tried and the result was better than the visions.

A long story could be written about visionary schemes that have been realized even while the wisecracks were assuring each other than there never would be anything in them. Once a man, whose capital stock consisted chiefly of enthusiasm, was promoting a railway. A steamboat owner, who had control of the transportation business of the country, which the proposed railway would serve, ridiculed the idea as visionary, and told the promoter that he would never live to see the line built. Two years later the steamboat owner sold his steamboats and bought stock in the railway, which was then nearing completion, and within ten years thereafter, there were two railways competing for the business of the region, where the wise men were certain there was not enough for one. Indeed the history of transportation shows that the visionary schemes are those that succeed. In "My Schools and Schoolmasters" Hugh Miller tells of the workmen in the quarry, who could see in the block of stone, on which they were working, the figure of the object to be made, and he says they cut away the superfluous stone. So in projects for the upbuilding of a country. Those who lead the advance see in their minds the things that are to be, and work towards producing them. A last illustration of the visionariness of some people may be given. About three years ago a somewhat prominent man from Ontario was discussing with the Colonist the prospects of railway construction in the West, and on being told that the people out here expected a good deal from the Canadian Northern, he said: "Don't pin your faith on Billy Mackenzie and Danny Mann. They're good fellows, but too visionary."

ABOUT PLAYS

To begin with Mr. John Drew and Miss Rose Coghlan greatly amused their audience in "Jack Straw," but this only shows that a good name may often be better than good acting, and that an audience predisposed to be amused will laugh heartily at an inferior play. For to tell the unvarnished truth "Jack Straw" is a poor apology for a play. It presents a lot of impossible characters doing impossible things. Its fun depends upon vulgarity; for there is absolutely nothing amusing in the situation as worked out by the dramatist or as played by Mr. Drew. Of course the woman's part is a tragedy until just at the denouement. Mr. Drew's conception of an archduke is that of an insufferable cad, who is funny only because he makes funny grimaces. Miss Coghlan's presentation of a social beggar on horseback is a vulgar ter-magant. But these characters are what the play calls for, and the actors can hardly be criticized for carrying out the dramatist's idea; the wonder is that they should have thought it worth while to present such a production.

These observations are made because the theatre plays a very important part in the social life of every community nowadays. Nearly every one goes to plays of one kind or another. This being the case, the poverty of invention exhibited by most modern dramatists is surprising. There is no market in the world where work can be sold more readily, if it has merit at all, than the dramatic market; yet really it seems as if it was becoming necessary for playgoers to choose between the prurient and the vulgar. We do not believe the public taste is as degenerate as this seems to indicate. We believe that good, wholesome plays, dealing with the old-fashioned principles of living, would find a hearty welcome from the people generally. Recently a letter to the London Times, written by Mr. Bernard Shaw in regard to the censorship of plays, has set a lot of correspondents writing to the English papers about what are and what are not proper plays. One of the letter writers, he says he is a dramatist, claims that the only proper judge of what should be presented to the public is the dramatist himself. He refuses to concede that any one else than the man who writes a play should be allowed to say if it shall be put upon the stage, provided he can get a manager to produce it. He says that the only man who can properly work out a situation is the man who creates the situation, a proposition to which we might all assent, although some of us might ask what earthly excuse there is for creating situations, which cannot be worked out without pandering to the worst elements of human nature. The public has a right to protect itself in some way against the fruits of the fertile imagination of dramatists, who believe all dramatic action of any value turns upon the violation of a particular one of the Ten Commandments. The other class of modern plays, that is that of the "Jack Straw" kind, with nothing whatever to commend it but amusing vulgarity, may do no particular amount of harm, but it certainly does no particular amount of good. Now we need not tell Colonist readers that this paper has no objection to amusement pure and simple. It values a hearty laugh as much as any one can; but it is unable to discriminate between the hero of the play referred to and a clown at a fair, grinning through a horse-collar.

Our despatches yesterday told of a minister dying in his pulpit at the advanced age of 91. That was not a bad way to round out a career.

The City Council has decided to consult its regular counsel as to the effect of the act authorizing the expropriation of Goldstream. One might be excused for supposing that this would have been done in the first place.

A correspondent asks a contemporary if the French pronunciation of the name Laurier is not usual and proper among English-speaking people, and the paper says it is. The question indicates one phase of the Anglo-Saxon character, namely an indisposition to give the proper pronunciation to foreign names. Now we draw a distinction between words that have been anglicized and those that have not been. Thus, no Frenchman pronounces the "s" in Paris, but we have anglicized the pronunciation just as the French have for many years called London Londres. No Frenchman pronounces Napoleon just as English people as a rule do, but it would be pedantic in ordinary conversation to use the French way. "Calais" does not spell "Calace" in French, but most English people on this side of the Atlantic, at least, pronounce it that way, and therefore there is no need of saying "Calay." Of course, the latter is right, but so is Dover, yet the Frenchman says Douvres. An odd instance of international pronunciation is afforded by the word riding-coat. When the French modiste made a riding coat for her client, she called it "redingote," which was a pretty good shot at the English name; now we call the female garment by the French name. But generally, as to names, they should be pronounced as the people bearing them pronounce them. There is no one called "Laurier," so why sound the final "r"? There would be just as much sense in sounding the final "x" in Mr. Lemieux' name, and in saying "Bow-mp" when we mean Beauchamp.

You Spend Money For Clothing

WHY NOT GET THE MOST FOR IT? WHAT MAKES GOOD CLOTHES?

WORKMANSHIP FIRST—That is what makes a garment keep its shape, look well and wear well. Fit-Reform has the best trained corps of hand-work tailors in Canada. Every garment is made and finished as if our whole reputation depended on that garment.

STYLE must be considered — You want correct fashions — clothes of class, down to date. Wear Fit-Reform, and wherever you may live or travel, you have the positive assurance that you are correctly garbed.

FIT—If you are still one of those who think themselves "hard to fit," remember that Fit-Reform has evolved a system whereby the customer can get just the Fit-Reform Suit or Overcoat that fits his individual physique as well as if it had been cut to measure.

Sole Owners of the Quality Store Are the Men Who Have Saved You the Little Bits

are savers of little bits

Yes! it's the little things that count; especially if you have a lot of them to provide for; then, the saving of every BIT counts. Now, the Anti-Combine Grocers whose store is at the Corner of Fort and Broad Streets, have reduced the price of your necessities, in some cases from 50 to 100 per cent. These are facts the proof of which we can furnish at any time. We are NOT trying to make you acquainted with OUR store or prices by any traps or catch-penny methods, but simply trying to tell you in our ads that we do and have saved you money; and, also, some of the difficulties we have experienced since doing our best to upset Pleasant Conditions. Pleasant conditions in the Grocery Business never added anything to what you have got. It meant that, THEN you were paying a great deal more than you are paying NOW. Prices are down. Patronize the Store that brought them down and will continue to HELP YOU to add a little bit more (NOW) to what you have already got. Did the Combine EVER try??

NEWS OF THE CITY

Mineralogist in the North.

W. Fleet Robertson, the provincial mineralogist, is at present in the Queen Charlotte Islands, on business in connection with his department. Mr. Robertson went north with the Moore excursion, and will return about July 15th.

Excursion to Cowichan Bay.

The C.P.R. steamer Princess May will leave on Thursday, at 9:30 a.m., for Cowichan Bay, returning at 8 p.m. The annual regatta at the bay takes place on Dominion Day, and the usual large crowd from Victoria is expected to attend.

Fifth Regiment Breaks Camp.

The Fifth Regiment, having concluded its summer training in camp, marched in from Macaulay Plains to the Drill Hall last night, headed by the regimental band. Last evening the final trials with the six inch guns took place.

Respond to False Alarm

A false alarm at 10:45 o'clock last night gave the fire brigade a run to Spring Ridge. No sign of fire and no sign of the individual who sent in the alarm could be found. It was from this section that recently a number of false alarms were being sent, giving a long stiff haul for the horses.

Organ Recital Pleases

The organ recital in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church last evening, given by W. H. Hewlett, Miss Bae, of Hamilton, Ont., assisted by Miss Jessie McKilligan, Mrs. D. E. Campbell and Mr. Gideon Hicks, was well attended. The programme was an excellent one and was much enjoyed.

Increased Protection.

More fire hydrants are being installed through the city adding to the fire protection. Four hydrants will be placed in the high level district in the neighborhood of St. Charles street, five in Victoria West as well as several in the Dallas road district and in the neighborhood of Work street.

Empress Grill Opens.

The grill room at the Empress was opened last evening and in future will be in operation from 12 noon until midnight. The grill room is situated on the ground floor, to the left of the north entrance of the hotel. The opening had been delayed through the non-arrival of some of the furnishings from England.

The Quagliotti Case.

In the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Justice Irving heard the arguments of counsel in the case of the Phoenix Brewery Co. vs. Quagliotti, eventually reserving his decision. In the case a claim to a right of way over and ancient lights on a small court in the rear of the New England hotel is in issue.

Earl's Son Here

Hon. Charles M. Ramsay, colonel, commanding the Forfar and Kincardine artillery, and son of the Earl of Dalhousie, is on a visit to the city, arriving yesterday. The Hon. Mr. Ramsay has friends in the city and after a brief visit he intends taking an extended tour through Alaska. He has visited Canada on several previous occasions but this is the first time he has come as far west as Victoria.

Quiet in Police Circles.

The active measures taken by the local police authorities immediately preceding the opening of the race meet here and for the first two weeks afterwards has apparently had the desired effect. For the past two weeks matters from the police standpoint, have been quieter than for years. Hardly a complaint of wrongdoing has been made to the authorities and crime, either large or small, is conspicuous by its absence.

Fifth Regiment C. G. A.

Regimental orders by Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hall, commanding, regimental headquarters, Victoria 29, 1909. 1. Permission has been granted for No. 1 company to go to Seattle tomorrow evening in charge of an officer nominated by Major Currie of not less rank than a captain. Dress—Review order with staff caps and Haversacks. 2. The regular monthly meeting of the officers' mess will be held on Thursday, July 8, at 8:30 p. m. In mufti. (Signed) W. Ridgway Wilson, major-adjutant.

Schools Close Today

Today some 2,700 public school scholars of this city will throw away books and forget their daily tasks in the joy of the approaching midsummer holidays. The last day of the old term will be celebrated in a number of the schools by the usual closing exercises for which the pupils have been preparing for some time. The South Park and Kingston street scholars will hold their entertainment at the former institution at 9:30 o'clock and the girls' mess will give a programme in the Pemberton gymnasium.

In the Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday a summons issued against Watson Clark, a dalmatian on the Lansdowne road, was dismissed by Magistrate Jay. He was charged with not providing proper tenders for his cows while they were being driven along the street. It was shown that he had two Chinamen and a Hindu in attendance and that only one cow got away, running over the sidewalk for 150 feet. In the circumstances prosecutor Moore said that as only a technical infraction of the by-law had been committed he would not press for a conviction. It was also apparent that there was a good deal of sectional feeling in the neighborhood over the matter. H. D. Helmcken K.C., appeared for the defendant.

Want Space for Exhibits

The Vancouver Island Development league is doing its utmost to secure sufficient space in the C. E. R. exhibit at the Seattle exposition to make a good showing of the island minerals. Some days ago R. Marpole telegraphed to the league that this space would be provided, and that he had telegraphed to C. M. Richardson to this effect. Mr. Richardson, who has charge of the C. P. R. exhibit at Seattle, arrived in the city yesterday and informed the league that ten feet square of space would be at its disposal. The local officials consider that this space is altogether insufficient, and Leonard Solly, of the E. & N. land department, who is working on behalf of the league, has wired to Mr. Marpole asking him to use his influence to secure more space.

A Tail Order.

Milliners have other troubles besides the frequent difficulty of collecting bills. One milliner tells of a letter she received from the wife of a man who, in a brief time, had advanced from poverty to great wealth. His family was still in obscurity, but was preparing to emerge.

"I want you to make a bonnet and two hats right off," wrote the wife "for me and the girls, and expense is no account."
 My measure is nearly twelve inches from ear to ear over the head, and eight under the chin, and six from top of forehead to back of hair, and that's near enough for both the girls.
 "I'm sandy, Jane is dark, and Lucy's got red hair. We want lively colors, and I want blue flowers and strings on mine, besides some plumes."
 "Jane wants hers green and Lucy wants pink; we don't care what shapes, but they must be becoming and so as they won't look like peaches in the wind; nor we don't want them loud, for my husband won't hear to such."
 "Please send within five days, and if satisfactory bill will be paid at once."

Yet, as the days wore on, the little leaf by leaf broadened more on the tree of grief, and now by the time the accustomed order of Rose, as of old, more deep, more strong; Though something told to the listening ears.
 That it bubbled up from a fount of tears.
 —Richard Le Gallienne.

Platinum Set Rings

There is something about our Three Stone Rings that is proving very attractive. It is the distinctive style of the settings. We have some of a spread arched form that shows the diamonds in such a way that there does not appear to be any setting, the platinum tips over the stones being practically the same color, are not noticed. The effect is very striking, and the diamonds, (which are perfectly matched in size and color) are safer than in plain gold rings, as the platinum is much harder than gold. You will find our prices as attractive as the rings, as we buy direct from the cutters, and do our own mounting.

A FEW
REMARKS

The purpose of a saw is to cut. It should cut easily, cut cleanly, and cut with every movement. A prefer an Atkins Saw. Its blade is "Silver Steel," recognized the world over as the finest crucible steel ever made in ancient or modern times. It is hard, close-grained and tough. It holds a sharp cutting edge longer than any other saw. Its blade tapers perfectly from thick to thin, from handle to tip. Thus it makes leeway for itself, runs easily and does not buckle. Its temper is perfect. When bent by a crooked thrust, it springs into shape without kinking. The Atkins Saw cuts—and does it best of any. We make all types and sizes of saws, but only one grade—the best.

REPORT OF WORK
DONE BY LEAGUE

Progress of Publicity Campaign During Last Two Months

At a meeting of the executive of the Vancouver Island Development League held in the board of trade rooms yesterday afternoon, Aldermen Henderson and McKeown took their seats for the first time as representatives from the city council to the organization. The following report of the work done by the league since its inception was submitted for the benefit of the new members:

"The officials of the Victoria branch of the Vancouver Island Development League, consider that they have accomplished a good share of work, during the first two months and a half that the league has been in existence.

"The first public work of note was in the nature of electing officers, appointing committees, and perfecting the plans for the year's campaign. After that came the meeting at Nanaimo, where the campaign for railway development, the pushing of the work for trails and roads throughout the island, and the question of rural telephones were taken up and decided upon, and from that time until the present, the league has been actively working through its president, finance and advertising committees, treasurer, secretary, and assistant secretary, in carrying on the work of the league throughout the island, and in every district, town and city of the island. Under the direction of the president and his committees, and the officials of the league in the city, which includes all of the men who were the movers of this body, progress has been made steadily, and the league feels encouraged by the outlook. The districts all over the island are thoroughly united, and enthusiastic, in their support of the aims and objects of the league, and are aiding each other in the development of the island as a whole.

"Details of Work
"Among other detail work accomplished by the league, may be mentioned the following: as an evidence of the fact that the league has been busy since it began operations on April 15th.

"Clearing up old Tourist Association matters, and getting into new quarters.

"Election of executive, and appointment of advertising committee, and finance committee.

"Completing the getting out of league stationery, and printing of campaign for first two months.

"Formation of leagues at Duncan, North Saanich and Oak Bay.

"Printing and distributing 20,000 cards of Victoria and Vancouver Island, among the merchants of Victoria, the auxiliary leagues and the Seattle fair.

"Printing and distributing 10,000 leaflets on Vancouver Island at Seattle fair.

"Placing on exhibition at Canada building, under glass, specimens of minerals, all parts of Vancouver Island, including copper, iron, coal, timber and specimens of marble.

"Perfecting plans whereby 5,000 Outposts of Empire, 10,000 leaflets of Vancouver Island, leaflets of picturesque Victoria, cards of Victoria, leaflets, etc., amounting to the weight of a ton are now being distributed at the A.-Y.-P. exposition for the exclusive use and benefit of Victoria and Vancouver Island.

"The distributing at the A.-Y.-P. exposition has been contracted for until the end of the fair, October 15, 1909.

"Revising old map of Victoria guide, adding new map of motor roads, with scale of miles and distances. Re-writing and bringing Victoria guide down-to-date, and arranging for 20,000 copies of same, to be ready not later than July 10th.

"Re-writing and arranging for 10,000 copies of fruit growing near Victoria. Re-writing and arranging for 10,000 copies of poultry raising near Victoria.

"In Portland Spectator and Sportsman's Review, two articles, one on the Y. M. C. A. at Victoria, and the other on Vancouver Island hunting and fishing.

"Two articles, one for Canadian Magazine of Toronto, and one for Westward-Ho Magazine, of Vancouver, both on Victoria.

"One article on land clearing, now in hands of Middle-West publisher. Also one article on automobileing on Vancouver Island, now in hands of Eastern Auto Magazine.

"Pamphlet to be published by provincial government, of all districts in the league, now being given ready, all districts to be represented; two districts to be written up yet, and all other MSS., except that from the Sooke district, being condensed, modified, re-written in part, and otherwise edited for pamphlet.

"Answering hundreds of personal letters regarding the resources and advantages of the island.

"Sending out daily to all auxiliary secretaries a list of inquiries, ranging from twelve to thirty-five days.

"Sending thousands of pieces of literature to be distributed from the Parliament Building, through the Bureau of Information, and the usher at said building.

"A committee composed of J. J. Shallcross and Secretary McGarvey was appointed to prepare suggestions with regard to land clearing on the island.

The meeting then adjourned.

CASE DID NOT GO TO JURY

Action of Cross Against E. & N. Dismissed by Judge—
Will Appeal

Mr. Justice Martin, at the close of a long legal argument, refused yesterday afternoon to allow the case of Cross vs. E. & N. to go to the jury. For the railway company E. P. Davis, K.C., made a very strong argument that Cross, having no business on the E. & N. right of way could not recover damages for the injuries done to him, at it was admitted that from the moment he had been noticed every possible effort had been made to avert the accident. The rules of negligence of which a passenger might avail himself would not apply in this case.

P. Peters, K.C., made a learned argument in support of the view that while in such case the plaintiff might have to take the track and the company's premises as he found it, and might have no right of action in respect of injuries received, on account of its dangerous or defective condition, yet where the plaintiffs were guilty of negligence over and above the conditions referred to a right of action arose.

His lordship, however, considered that the case was similar in principle to that of Nightingale vs. C.P.R., which went to the Supreme Court of Canada, and that therefore he must give effect to the ruling of that court. The action was accordingly dismissed, though it is the intention to enter an appeal.

MANY STUDENTS ARE WRITING

Result of Examinations Will Accentuate Need of More Room at High School

With the largest number of students on record now writing on the High school entrance examinations which commenced on Monday and will terminate today, the school board is once again confronted with the problem of adequate High school accommodation.

There are 190 students writing of whom 163 are from the city schools and the balance from private schools. While there will be probably one class which will move out of the High school after the matriculation examinations it is almost a certainty that when the entrance examinations are through at least two additional classes will be made. That institution is now taxed to its utmost and in fact during the past year or two the accommodation was so limited that additional room was secured by erecting two small frame class houses on the grounds.

The situation has become such that the suggestion made earlier in the year that another High school should be erected will be revived this fall. The board is about unanimous that such a new educational institution has become an absolute necessity. It is wholly a matter of funds.

At the entrance examinations now under way Superintendent of Schools, E. B. Paul, M. A. is presiding examiner. From schools other than city public schools St. Anne's convent supplies twelve students; Lampson street school ten; Collegiate school one and St. Louis school four.

Where Violets Languish
Ah, what avails thine anguish?
Tears may not lessen grief,
But come where violets languish
And thou shalt have relief.
Thou shalt forget thy woes and distress
Where violets show their purple dress.
Yea, what may tears avail?
Tears may not lighten woes and distress
Where purple flowers grow;
And there, where violets languish
Thou shalt forget thine anguish.

We'll go by way of meadows green,
And gather as we go
Ripe buttercups with golden sheen,
That "mongst the grasses grow;
And haply in our path shall be
A lonely crimson rose for thee.
Where violets are spread,
We'll weave a garland for thy hair
Of purple flowers, and gold, and red;
And there, where violets languish,
Thou shalt forget thine anguish.

COMMENCEMENT
DAY AT CONVENT

Closing Exercises at St. Ann's
—Bishop McDonald
Speaks

The girls of St. Ann's Convent formed a very pretty picture yesterday afternoon as they assembled in the Institute Hall for their commencement exercises. All were dressed in white and from the rows of little ones in the front to the young ladies of the graduating classes they looked as bright and happy as young girls on the eve of a holiday should.

That they had earned their rest and pleasure by hard study was evident both by the excellent programme rendered and by the number of diplomas gained. Except for the piano, the music is in charge of special instructors. Mrs. Moresby teaching the classes in singing, Mrs. Frank Sehl giving lessons on the harp and Mr. Benedict Bantly on the violin. In all the branches the pupils showed both talent and skill and a large audience listened to the following programme with delight.

Piano Duet—Rhapsody March
..... Liszt
..... Misses E. Whiting, L. Barnett.
Chorus—"Summer's Return" Pinsuti
Essay—"Sowing and Reaping" Miss M. McDonald Vocal Solo—
a. On Wings of Music Mendelssohn
b. The Gull Sinding
Miss A. G. Jones.
Reverie—Le Calme du Soir Acton
First Violin Miss B. Moss
Second Violin Miss E. Whiting
Harp Miss L. Barnett
Piano Miss M. Baynton
Piano Duet—Capriccio Brillante Mendelssohn
..... Misses E. Whiting, E. Kellogg.
God Save the King.

The class poem by Miss E. Mulcahy and the valedictory by Mrs. Katherine P. Lyter would have done credit to much older authors than the "sweet girl graduates." They were read with a good taste and a pureness of tone and distinctness of utterance as rare as it was pleasant to listen to.

The medals and diplomas were presented by Bishop McDonald and members of the clergy who with the Superior of the convent and the nuns occupied seats of honor.

When the honors had all been conferred with the pretty ceremony of crowning the two graduates, Miss Eileen M. Mulcahy, daughter of Sergeant Mulcahy, of Victoria, and Miss Katherine P. Lyter, of Seattle, Washington, Bishop McDonald said he saw his name on the programme for an address, but he could only give a little talk. He would congratulate all on the excellent work accomplished. But there was no need for him, a stranger, to tell the people of Victoria what good teaching the sisters of St. Ann's gave their daughters.

He had been sometimes puzzled to know why the closing exercises of the term should be called the commencement. In some of the older institutions of Europe it was the custom to confer at the beginning of the year. Commencement was then a correct term, and we had kept the word when honors were conferred at the end. Yet there was a sense in which this day was the beginning for the graduates were going forth beyond the threshold to fight life's battles.

The speaker then went on to speak of the meaning of the word education. It meant a development of powers, not a talking in of so much knowledge. Education took a long time to perfect. Life itself was a school, and the more we knew the better we understood how little we knew.

The world thought much of education, and rightly so. But education, in the true meaning of the word, was the training not of the intellect alone, but of the whole man. Man is complex: "body, mind, and soul." The three need no education. The body can build its nest and the bee its cell by instinct. Man alone had reason and free will. For this reason he could make progress and needed education on every side.

It was a poor sort of education that would cultivate only the intellect. The heart and the conscience needed training, as well. It was this that formed character, and even in this world character was the most important thing. This training was not easy. Many sacrifices must be made, much uphill work must be done before the habit of doing right could be formed. It was often hard work to pull against the current, but we mustn't let ourselves drift.

The Bishop told his young hearers of the need of looking to Christ as the standard of character, and pointed out that a Christian education was its foundation. It was their privilege to receive such an education, and they ought to appreciate it at its true worth. He hoped that the children going out for their holiday would not forget the lessons learned and when they came back would go on with the work of education, and carry it on successfully to the end.

The singing of the National Anthem followed, and after lingering to greet their teachers, the pupils left for their holiday.

BYLAW DELAYED
B. C. Electric Company Has Not Yet
Signified Acceptance of City's Draft

Owing to the fact that the draft agreement between the city and the B. C. Electric Company relative to the Jordan River power development scheme has not yet been returned to the city after having been forwarded to the company at Vancouver for approval of the company, several changes have been added to the agreement by the city barrister, the matter has not been further gone into.

A special meeting of the city council was held last night, one of the objects of which was to consider the by-law in which the arrangement between the city and the company is to be incorporated. This step will have to be taken at a subsequent meeting, probably on Friday evening. The by-law will be known as the B. C. Electric Company's Privileges By-law, and will be submitted to the ratepayers at an early moment. Like many by-laws, the present measure will necessitate that a three-fifths of the vote polled must be in favor of the agreement, as

Here and There

The women of Victoria are to be congratulated on the inauguration of the Woman's Canadian club. No one present at the meeting yesterday could question the loyalty of the ladies or their earnestness.

The members enrolled will form an admirable nucleus for a very large society. They represent women of many views, and this was as it should be. There were some absent that one would have been glad to see in the first meeting but they will have an opportunity to join at a later date,
and their help will not be less effective
that they have taken time for consideration.

For in the work which the Canadian club aims to do there is room for every woman. Our country cannot be great as Mr. McPhillips said, unless its people are good, and this depends in a very special way on the women.
If by listening to wise speakers and by thinking about what they say our own minds are broadened and our eyes purified all within the sphere of our influence will be the better.

It is this which women especially need. Our work and to some degree our education, and training tend to make us narrow. We do not take a wide outlook. We work very hard.
Our homes, our children, our friends,
our work and our pleasures occupy
our time and absorb our energies.

In some cases this is unavoidable.
The woman who loves her home and who cares for husband and children is doing work essential for the well being of a nation. But she will be a wiser and better mother if she takes time to understand what is going on around her. Her boys and girls will be better fitted to play their part in the world if from their childhood they have heard not only the mere gossip of the neighborhood but the discussion of questions of importance to the community or to the nation. There are few among us who busy that we cannot take time to learn enough of what is passing in the world around us to be wise counsellors to the children when the problems of the outside world at first confront them.

Whether we will or no we must decide some questions that have a very important bearing on the future of Canada. On one of these Mr. Mc-Phillips touched yesterday. It is a very grave one and one in which it is not that women should have the ballot in order that their influence may have great weight. If Canadians are to take upon themselves their share of the burden of self defence, it will be because the fathers and mothers of the nation decide that it is right to do so. In this question
there is much division of opinion
among wise and good men and women.
Yet the time may come when every woman in Canada will be called upon to decide whether her son shall be fitted, when called upon to defend his country or the cause of which it is a part or whether he shall remain
among the ranks of the unready.

On this and on many other questions we need now wise guidance. We must make up our minds on one side or the other and when we have made up our mind we must stick to it. We think or say in the matter of patriotism it is the convictions or the feelings of the women of a country that are the strongest in determining the future.
The mothers and teachers who influence the little children give them no more lasting influence than their training can alter. If the boys are to become members of the militia or sailors in the navy it will be because from babyhood they have been taught to admire bravery.

It is the work of the Canadian club to show us in this, and in many other ways, how we can best promote the greatness and welfare of our country,
and there are none too wise and there are none too simple to learn the lessons which it is its province to teach.

It was perhaps, unfortunate that the first meeting was fixed for an hour when the school teachers were unable to be present. They form a very important part of this community and in all the work for which the Canadian club stands have no little influence. It is to be hoped that all will join and that the function at which addresses will be given will be arranged for a time, when not only they,
but other busy women can conveniently attend.

Athletes and physicians agree in denouncing long distance running as a sport for boys. It ought not, one would think, need an expert to tell that when a growing lad strains every organ of his body in the effort to reach a goal and perhaps falls in a faint before he reaches the goal, he is enjoying himself. But neither reason nor common sense have much influence over fashion. And the Marathon, is a fashion, though one that is happily dying out.

Unfortunately the effects of a craze
are apt to last long after it has disappeared in its most acute form. And in this case it is the children who suffer. But we will see what those who are in a position to give an authoritative opinion on the subject say.
Professor V. J. Cronin, of Pennsylvania describes the distress that those endure to test their endurance to the limit in the following paragraph: "There is a pounding in the temples; sparks and flashes of light appear before the eyes; ringing noises are heard; the chest feels as if it were oppressed by a weight, and the air inhaled has a burning sensation. When one becomes fatigued under the influence of enforced running, the face takes on a leaden hue. In a case should one be permitted to continue running when this condition presents itself, as it means the beginning of asphyxia. Often when a runner is almost exhausted, when the head feels as if bound by an iron band, when he is almost unconscious of passing events, he will still force the tired legs forward until they refuse to act, and he falls to the ground exhausted or in a faint."

This opinion is concurred in by the noted athletic trainer Mike Murphy, who says the youngsters should be kept away from the game. The boys will perhaps pay more heed to the authority than to the wise professors or careful doctors. The boy who makes a wonderful record is not likely to excel
in athletics when he is a man.

Three famous English doctors, Sir
Lander Brunton, Sir Thomas Barlow
and Sir Alfred Trapp have sent a letter to all the English schools in which they say "We consider school and cross country races exceeding one mile in distance as wholly unsuitable for boys under the age of nineteen, as the continued strain involved is apt to cause permanent injury to the heart and other organs. While outdoor sports have done much for the British race in the past no good results can follow
from the excessive strain of long distance running on boys. If women and girls would resolutely refuse to attend such races the fashion would soon die out."

The agitation against the wearing of the plumage of birds has had some effect over the fashionable world. There are many women who refuse to wear
the ostriches which are only procured at a terrible cost to the lives of the beautiful creatures whose natural adornment they form.

Others go farther and refuse to be the cause of the slaughter of the humming bird and the many others whose brilliant plumage make beautiful ornaments for hats or bonnets. The matter of the killing of birds in order that their plumage might wear, their plumage came up for discussion at the quinquennial a few days ago and the Toronto News gives the following humorous account of the incident.

The voice of the resolution reader
rang out clear as a bell:

"The International Council of Women strongly recommends all National Councils of Women to consider what action can be taken to discourage the destruction of harmless and beautiful birds."

A dozen feminine heads nodded approval, and as they nodded, a multitude of feathers from plain gulls of the barnyard hen to the delicate gems of the osprey, were set in motion, fanning the air with silent applause for the noble sentiment of the Resolve.
The reader continued: "To secure the stricter observation of close times and to develop a healthier public sentiment in regard to those wanton forms of sport, which involve cruelty to birds or other animals and needless waste of life."

And the king fishers and cardinals and all the other feathered fellows sitting on the high bonnets spoke up and said "Amen."

Then up got Mrs. Edwin Grey, representing Great Britain and Ireland.
About her there was no sign of a slain bird. The Countess of Aberdeen spoke a moment later in a similar strain, deploring the custom of wearing dead
birds or their wings on feminine head gear. And like Mrs. Grey, who seconded the resolution, there was every evidence that the president put into practice her convictions.

"Wearing birds," said her Excellency, "can promote no wholesome thoughts in any person."

And again the heads nodded
throughout the hall, while the little birds up aloft wagged to and fro, and whispered, "hear, hear," to one another,
and then they fell asleep.

The English women who have adopted gardening as a means of making a livelihood ought to find on Vancouver Island a scope for their energies. If women can make gardening pay anywhere they should be able to do so in the neighborhood of Victoria. The climate is mild and vegetables, small fruit and flowers flourish as they do in few places in the world.

Canadians, strangely enough, do not look upon the cultivation of a garden
as suitable employment for women.
They are admirable helpers but the hardest of the work is done by men.
The idea of a woman's going about to take care of lawns and keep borders in order is here new. True, amateurs who can afford to pay men for doing the rough, hard and disagreeable work find the cultivation of flowers a delightful pursuit. But the possibility of doing such work for profit has occurred to only a very few. Yet at more than one agricultural school in England, women are trained to do all the work of the professional gardener. It is said to be employment suitable for gentlewoman and not to be too great a strain upon their strength. We may hope to hear more about these women gardeners for among our visitors from the Quinquennial will be Miss F. R. Wilkinson, principal of the Horticultural College, Swanley, Kent.
Miss Wilkinson believes in the gospel of work and says her creed is shared by Englishwomen generally. The day has gone by when it was fashionable for a gentlewoman to bear her poverty in enforced idleness.

Now-a-days cultured well-educated girls are entering upon business livers, nor do they lower their social standing by so doing. That a woman can be a lady and still work for her living at manual labor, is an opinion that once entertained by the people of any country would work a great revolution.
Perhaps these women gardeners and the domestic science teachers will help to teach as that muscular strength and skill may be possessed by women of refined nature and great mental powers.

Charity Among Thieves.

Havelock Ellis, in his "Soul of Spain," has revealed intimately and charmingly
the temperament of the Spanish people.
According to him, the Spaniard is still fundamentally primitive. In proof of his possession of the primal instincts of hospitality and charity he quotes the following anecdote from an Argentine newspaper of a few years ago, at a time when there was much distress in Aragon.

A laborer out of work came on the highroad determined to rob the first person he met. This was a man with a wagon. The laborer made him halt and demanded his money.

"Here are thirty pounds, all that I have," the detained man replied.
"There is nothing left for me but robbery. My family are dying of hunger," the aggressor said apologetically and proceeded to put the money in his pocket; but as he did so his mind changed.

"Take this, chico," he said, handing him twenty-nine pounds. One is enough for me."

"Would you like anything I have in the cart?" asked the wagoner, impressed by this generosity.

"Yes," said the man. "Take this pound back too. I had better have some rice and some beans."

The wagoner handed over a bag of cabbages and then held out two pounds
which, however, the laborer refused.
"Take them for luck-money," said the
wagoner. "I owe you that."

"And only so," the would-be robber
persuaded to accept.

No Mistake.

A late chief officer of an infantry regiment, relating some of his experiences in the field, held out two pounds
which, however, the laborer refused.
"Take them for luck-money," said the
wagoner. "I owe you that."

"And only so," the would-be robber
persuaded to accept.

SPORT BREVITIES

Our twentieth defeat—Clafin.

Coleman, the college player, rapped out the hit which was responsible for the Tigers' single earned run. Coleman has yet shown no signs of a let down.

Emil Frisk was helpless before Clafin's shots. In one instance the heavy hitter swung at a third strike which he couldn't have reached with a fish pole.

Lee Magee made a bull in the seventh which allowed the Tigers a run. Kippert was on third. Kellackey slapped a teaser to Lee, who scooped it up and backed Kellackey towards the pan. Kippert was half way home, but checked himself. To the surprise of all Lee shot the ball to third, and Kippert tore home, beating the throw by inches. Had Magee tossed the ball to Custer, or even started after Kippert himself, the probabilities are that the runner would have been run down. At the worst he would have been held on third.

Advertise in THE COLONIST

Stanley Ketchel, the Michigan assassin is getting in great shape for the big mill on July 5th when he will meet Billy Papke, the Illinois thunderbolt. Ketchel is the favorite in this affair and The Post picks him to win.

When Bobby Kerr of Hamilton, and Reggie Walker, of South Africa, meet at the English championships on July 3rd there will sure be something doing. These are the two best sprinters in the world today beyond a doubt. Kerr should win the 220 while Walker looks good for the century sprint.

The Beacon Hill mine will travel to Vancouver on Dominion Day, when they have a date. Brother Meldram will act as chaperon.

Edward Payson Weston is still walking, but where? No word has been heard of him for some few days but the old duck isn't far from the end.

Old Dorando, the Italian Marathon runner, has absolutely no kick coming at all. He says it's a fine game and that it should not be allowed to die out. Why should the maccaroni enter against the sport? He now has $27,000 and left New York yesterday for Italy, where he will join his marlinch.

Harry Lombard and Billy Lauder are booked to go twenty rounds at North Vancouver on Dominion Day. They will weigh in at 135 pounds.

Teddy Coleman gets warmed up very often in talking of athletic accomplishments. The latest music to drift from the English hiker is that he will bet anyone $100 that there is no athlete on the Pacific Coast who can do the hundred yards in 10 seconds flat. Teddy says that in England the time for athletic events are made by electric timing and that 10 seconds in this country as they are timed on the coast would be about 12 seconds in England.

Route Over Which Trip Must Be Made Is One of Most Difficult

Vancouver, June 29.—Power boat men captured the premises of the Royal Vancouver Yacht club last night and until after midnight the officials were busy arranging the final details for the race which started this morning at 10 o'clock. The handicapping took a considerable time and W. Macaulay, of Vancouver, and Harold Lee, of Everett, were measuring boats as long as daylight lasted. The first boat to go away was the Talsman, owned by Bob Jaddon, of Vancouver, and at varied intervals the launches were started until the M. A. B. owned by Harvard, of Victoria, completed the list of cruising launches. The Athma, owned by Easthope, of Vancouver, was the last to start, going in a special class and the total number of boats starting was 34.

George Buscombe was starter and E. A. Lucas, timekeeper, and they were assisted by H. Burton-Brooke, secretary of the Royal Vancouver Yacht club. The start was made from English Bay and the course takes the boats all the way to Tacoma and back to Seattle, finishing off Duwamish Head. The winning boat is expected to reach port tomorrow.

Sailing Yachts Start.
At one o'clock last night the Flie designed cup defender, Alexandra, left port in tow of a tug and will reach Seattle tomorrow when she will be immediately measured and placed in commission. Captain E. B. Deane received quite a send off and expressed himself as confident of victory.

At 9 o'clock last night the tug Fraser steamed out with eight sloops in tow and the number of boats going was in the nature of a disappointment as it had been hoped that about 20 or 25 yachts would make the trip. However, the regatta at Seattle is spread over such a length of time that it is prohibitive in many instances. Sloopers and crews cannot get away for the ten days necessary to take it in and the small fleet which left last night is the result.

The boats which went out were the sloops Madeline, Rear-Commodore Thicket, Aloha, Moore, Canuck, Scarlett, Iola, Cao, Diane, Foster, Winnie, Winnie, Vainwright, Silver Spray, Plinday, and Adanac, Stone.

The tow expects to reach Appleton Cove late tonight and to arrive at Seattle tomorrow. Among the sound visitors to Vancouver was J. R. Van Dyke of Everett, who built the power boats Sova, Lady May and Ventura, all of which were started in the race today.

NEW WESTMINSTER TWELVE RETAINS FAMOUS LACROSSE TROPHY

WESTMINSTER RETAINS CUP

Defeats Tecumsehs by a Total of Twelve Goals to Nine on the Round

PROVE THEMSELVES THE BETTER TEAM

In Swift and Furious Game Pacific Coast Team Vanquish the Challengers

BY J. B. SWEENEY,

Special Representative of Colonist.

Queen's Park, New Westminster, June 29.—The greatest lacrosse match ever played on a Canadian field was witnessed here this afternoon by nearly six thousand fans, when the New Westminster champions retained the score through Adamson in 6:20. It was very easy, Archie scoring on a long shot with several players between him and the net. The Tecumseh home having an extra man held the ball for fully a minute dickered around the New Westminster defense before Adamson sent in a long low shot that Gray should have stopped. New Westminster had several easy shots on the quarter came to an end the Tecumseh home cleverly drew out the New Westminster defence and Durkin got a shot, the ball going wild. Right after this the ball rang with the score: New Westminster 2, Tecumseh 1.

CHARLES GALBRAITH, POINT.

Second Quarter Lively

The second quarter started with some ginger and it was evident that a great battle was under way. They went at it hammer and tongs and the ball travelled rapidly from one end of the field to the other. In a Westminster attack Felker ran into Bill Turnbull and went down and out. Turnbull was ruled off for five minutes. The play in this quarter was slow and uninteresting and neither team showed any great speed.

The ball was faced in centre and half a dozen players fell over each other before Tecumseh got it away. The challengers looked dangerous, but Adams missed in front. Felker tried a long shot from the flag but it went wide. Tom Rennie made a spectacular dash up centre field with three players chopping at him and got away with the ball. There was no one to help him, however, at the home end and Tecumseh broke away. Roundtree fell down and passed to Querrie who in turn transferred to Adams. The latter scored in 8:44. The spectacular bit of combination play, Adamson getting his third goal of the game. The challengers home did some splendid work. Roundtree, Querrie and Adamson figuring in the play. The cheering of the few Tecumseh supporters was still echoing from the Westminster home scored from the Minto Cup by defeating the fast Toronto Tecumsehs by six goals to five. The weather conditions were ideal and the field was perfect.

The Tecumsehs lined up exactly the same as in the first game, while there was a change in the disposition of the Westminster combination. Turnbull was back in the game in place of Gordon Spring and went to centre, while Cliff Spring was at third home. Captain Querrie won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. Westminster playing down the hill. Tecumseh lost the ball on the draw but Pickering relieved the rubber, went straight to the other end when Dolly Durkin registered the first shot of the game, Gray saving nicely. Westminster drew first blood when George Rennie intercepted a Tecumseh pass and going down himself passed to Bryson, who was uncovered and beat both Griffith and Grayson in 3:26. The Westminster defence was playing great ball at this stage and the Tecumseh home was checked in a most determined fashion. The easterners played a foxy game on the home and kept trying to draw out the defence. The fast work of the New Westminster field prevented them from getting the odd man.

Gifford on the Job

After some fast work on the part of both teams, Jimmy Gifford carried the ball to the centre and shot to Alex Turnbull, who gave the ball to his namesake William, and goal number 2 was easy for the latter in exactly the same time as the first goal, 3:26. The Tecumsehs got their initial quarter. The champions got the next tally, however, Len Turnbull getting in 4:30. The Tecumsehs got one more through the efforts of Felker. Bombard as they would, the Tecumsehs could not even up the score and when Lionel Yorke sounded the whistle the Minto Cup was still safe on the banks of the Fraser.

Interesting After Effects.

Coming off the field immediately after today's game, Manager Charles Querrie, said: "The Champions beat us fairly and squarely in this series, but we are not yet satisfied. We will return east at once, and when we win the Eastern National championship, as we hope to do, the Tecumsehs will immediately challenge the Royals. There is still a feeling amongst our twelve that we can lift the Minto Cup."

Lionel A. Yorke, one of today's referees, said after the big battle: "It was the fastest exhibition of lacrosse I ever witnessed, and two more evenly matched twelve could not be brought together. The players obeyed well and very few penalties were the result."

C. BRYSON, INSIDE HOME.

Alderman O'Connell, the other referee, stated: "I have been mixed up in lacrosse a good number of years, and have witnessed many a hard fight, but today's battle was the fastest, headiest, and cleanest game it has ever been my pleasure to witness."

Manager Charlie Welsh, of the Champions, had the following to say at the end of the last quarter: "I said our twelve could not be beaten, and although the challengers are more evenly matched with the champions than any other twelve, I'm sure we can beat them at any time. We will certainly accept their challenge if they win the National Lacrosse league pennant this season, but, take it from me, the Minto Cup is in New Westminster to stay."

Con. Jones, the Vancouver promoter, approached Manager Querrie in the Tecumseh's special car immediately after the game this afternoon, and offered the Tecumseh's seven hundred dollars to stay over until Saturday and play Vancouver. "The challengers used the offer, and left here at seven o'clock this evening for Banff, where they will remain a day. They have already made a date with Regina for next Saturday for $400. The boys all want to get back home as soon as possible and refused to have delays. All affirm that they are anxious to challenge New Westminster once more, and wish to go home and win the Eastern championship, so as to qualify for another Minto Cup series."

WILL NANAIMO GIVE UP SOCCER CUP?

Coal City Players Claim They Still Retain Island Championship

That possession is nine points of the law is evidently the motto of the Nanaimo Football club, for it is rumored in local football circles that the coal city players will refuse to give up the Vancouver Island championship cup which was awarded to Ladysmith recently by default. In the final game which was to have been played at Esquimalt the Nanaimo men arrived on the field four players short and refused to play the match. The referees awarded the game to Ladysmith, and at the time Nanaimo stated they would lodge a protest. The referees will leave it that this course has been abandoned and that instead they will retain the cup, claiming that it is theirs until they are beaten for its possession. The solution of this difficulty will probably be thrashed out at a meeting of the Vancouver Island League officials, but meantime the island championship officially belongs to Ladysmith.

It is understood that both these island teams will go back to Calgary to play for the People's Shield, emblematic of the soccer championship of Canada. This is now held by the Caledonians of Calgary, and this year they are reported to have a strong team.

BRIGHT, BREEZY SPORT

Charles Cohen, the Irish lightweight champion, who has appeared in local contests on several occasions, is going to leave our fair city and journey back to Ireland. It seems too bad that a Jeff-Cohen round match could not be made before the Irish boxer goes away, as the public would surely like to see this pair don the mitts for a final encounter. The match will take place in the latter part of July for the old country.

The question around local athletic circles is: Will Brook Vale be sent to the C. A. A. U. championships next month? Surely the local boy's performance are creditable and it can do the Vale boys no harm to try. At Oak Bay track, he ought to stand a good show with the best of them on a real fast under path.

At Goldstream on next Thursday, there will be some tall ball-playing when the Y. M. I. and the Caledonians of Columbia will line up. This game ought to make the National League sit up and take notice.

A big handicap field meet will be held at Vancouver on Dominion Day. All events from the hundred yards to the five mile are handicaps.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW STREET, VICTORIA, B.C.

Plant under course of erection at Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

ASSETS
The company have acquired 55,669 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

WATER POWER
In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000-hp water record on Marble creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h. p. This creek derives its source from three lakes, 20 miles in length, and is thus permanent the year round.

CAPACITY OF PLANT
The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

COST OF MANUFACTURE
With our tremendous pulp limits which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $30.00 per ton; as present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

LOCAL MARKETS
The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers of Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

FOREIGN MARKETS
The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

FREIGHT RATES TO ORIENT
A freight rate from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper, as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe; being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills, we not only are able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

NATURAL ADVANTAGES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood; one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four-foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

PROGRESS OF WORK
We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Chas. B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than 50 of the leading mills of the country, and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

MORE ABOUT CONDOR STORY

Settler Off Whose Land Submerged Object Lies Writes Concerning It

TEES IS BACK FROM WEST COAST

Whalers Continue to Make Good Catches—Rescue by Seaman Cassidy

The steamer Tees brings a further account regarding the find of wreck or reef, whatever it may be, off Long Beach, which was believed to be H.M.S. Condor, lost in 1901. In a letter brought for the marine exchange from C. T. Harvey, the Long Beach settler, in front of whose place the submerged object, which the patrol reports is a reef, lies, the west coast resident says:

"The facts are that about the time of the wreck of the Condor a jib-boom marked 'Condor jib-boom' came ashore with a signal glass and a few boxes, and other things supposed to be from the Condor. Most of these things were seen by the men from H.M.S. Egeria, who were looking for wreckage, and I presume, were reported to the Admiralty at the time. Afterwards I saw off the place stamped 'Condor jib-boom', and sent it together with the signal glasses and boxes to Mrs. Slater, wife of the commander of the lost warship, who had asked for them. 'Now about the reef or wreck, or whatever it may be in front of my place, What made me think it might be the Condor is that I had never noticed it until after the wreck of the Condor; although I had been here two years before that time. Another thing that makes me think that it is not a reef is that it shows more years than it does in others. It showed most about a year ago, and less now. Now the spar mentioned was floating over it for a few hours, not days, as reported, and it could not have been attached to anything for some time, for it was completely covered with those greenish shells so that I could not see a bit of wood when it first came on shore. After the birds had stripped it I found it was a cedar spar with the knots patched over with copper, but there was no broad arrow on it nor any other marks to show it belonged to the navy, and I think probably Mr. Hillier was right about it belonging to the Pass of Melford. "The supposed wreck is almost due south of my house on the hill, perhaps a point or two west of south, anyway, from one to four miles from shore. I cannot tell how far it is. I think the regular track of the steamers is about eight miles out from shore at that point. If it is the wreck of the Condor, it is strange that some more wreckage has not come ashore, for when anything gets that far into the bay it seldom gets out again. Any thing I can do to clear up the matter I will gladly do."

Arrangements are being made to alter the schedule of the West Coast steamer so that weekly sailings will be given to Quatsino Sound, according to unofficial advice. It is proposed, it is said, to have sailings every Tuesday, and instead of two trips a month being extended to Quatsino the steamer will go to the western Sound on every trip.

The Tees brought about 60 passengers from West Coast ports in excess of the Indian deck passengers. Her trip was extended to Rivers Inlet in order to carry Indians from West Coast villages to the northern canneries. It had been arranged that the bulk of the Indian workers would be taken from the island rancheries by the Tees, but the cannery steamer Celtic preceded her and took 200 Sitkians north.

Among those who returned by the steamer was Alex Gillespie, of this city and survey party of fourteen men who have been engaged in delimiting timber limits on Quatsino Sound. H. Lewis, a Seattle capitalist and a party of five who have been visiting the Alberni district were also among the arrivals. A. W. McCurdy of the Nootka Marble quarry returned from Nootka Sound.

The Tees brought news that the total number of whales taken on the island coast since the season began at the two stations at Kyquot and Sechart is 247. At Kyquot the whaling steamer St. Lawrence has brought in 117, and the steamer Orion has brought 130 to Sechart. Bad weather interfered much with hunting since the steamer's last visit. The Tees brought 380 barrels of whale oil and four tons of marble amongst her general cargo. The steamer Princess Ena was seen at Sechart, loading whale oil and will bring a good cargo of guano and oil from the coast stations. The steamer arrived last night with a number of Indians from the West Coast bound to the Fraser river canneries.

Seaman Cassidy, of the Tees was the recipient of a purse from his shipmates and passengers on the West Coast steamer in recognition of a heroic rescue performed by him at Tofino Inlet. J. Rawley, a prospector from Alberni, who was a passenger on the steamer stepped from the gangway at Tofino and fell between the steamer and wharf, striking his head as he went down. Cassidy saw him fall and rescued the drowning man. The rescue was not only courageously, but expeditiously performed and it was the consensus of opinion that Rawley would have lost his life but for the quick work of Cassidy.

The Tees went to Steveston last night, taking the Indians brought by the Princess Ena.

Tymerie Arrives. The latest addition to the Australian mail line is the steamer Tymerie, which reached port Monday night and proceeded to Comox to load coal for her voyage to the antipodes. She will take on lumber at Millside after she has filled her bunkers.

was begun. It was finally sighted at a distance of half a mile and an effort was made to pick it up. But before the craft could arrive alongside the big furry creature was again submerged by a comb. On coming to view once more it was much farther away from the steamer. Again an attempt was made at rescue, but fate appeared to be against the struggling pussy, as wave after wave kept carrying it out of reach.

When the cruise of rescue was finally abandoned the brave mascot was swimming with all its might towards the Oregon shore. As land was less than five miles distant it is believed that the animal managed to save itself. The had been on the vessel for more than a year, and the crew had become strongly attached to it.

Vado's Sailing Date. The steamer Vado will sail on Friday instead of Thursday on account of the holiday.

Arrivals and Departures. Seattle, June 29.—Arrived: Steamer Seward from Tacoma; steamer Umatilla from Nome; steamer Delhi from Eagle Harbor; steamer Governor from San Diego via ports. Sailed: United States transport Dix for navy yard, Puget sound; steamer Washtenaw for San Francisco.

Liverpool, June 27.—Arrived: British steamer Keemun from Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma, etc. via Hongkong.

Bound for Vancouver. The French bark Max, which is on passage to Vancouver with general cargo for Robert Ward & Co., is coming via Hobart, Tasmania. The vessel left London on June 10 and cleared from Cherbourg on June 13. The French government gives a bounty to sailing vessels of that country, but they must call at a French port, hence the visit paid by the Max to Cherbourg. She has about 3,000 tons for Vancouver, but it is not known what freight she is carrying for the Tasmanian port.

Umatilla Arrives. Seattle, June 29.—With 81 passengers and $24,000 in gold, $14,000 by express and $10,000 of the North Commercial company, the steamer Umatilla, Capt. Thomas Reilly, arrived from Nome at 6 o'clock yesterday. The vessel was out three hours more than eight days, having encountered strong head winds in the North Pacific and also having lost mileage in skirting the ice floes of Bering sea.

Kosmos Liner Coming. Advice have been received that the Kosmos steamer Solatis would arrive in Vancouver about July 12 from Hamburg via the west coast. The steamer was built in 1906 in England for the Germans, and will probably have a shipment of Central American sugar for the refinery. She will load for west coast and European points outward. The Jensen liner Ena will arrive on the same day from Mexico with 1,000 tons of Tehuantepec freight.

Quadra Returns. After having landed a party of trail builders at Banfield Creek where they will resume work on the west coast trail the government steamer Quadra returned to port yesterday morning. The steamer Leebro is loading for the west coast. She will leave tomorrow with 30 men who are going to Entrance Island at the mouth of Quatsino sound to lay the foundations for a new second order light to be erected there.

Salmon Traps Lifted. Five tons of spring salmon from the Victoria fish traps, owned by Capt. C. G. Matthews, off Gonzales point, was the toll taken yesterday when the traps were lifted for the first time this season. This is looked upon as a satisfactory catch and it made a worthy item in the total of receipts for the day. The amount of salmon that is coming in daily is increasing steadily and the prospects are that the rule of the fourth year being the largest year will be upheld.

TO HAVE SEASON OF GRAND OPERA

Boston Company to Open Here on Thursday Evening

Through an arrangement made late yesterday afternoon, the management of the Victoria theatre announces the engagement of the Boston Grand Opera company for a series of performances of classical works of music, in English. The closing of the stock company made possible the engagement of this organization, which is en route to Seattle to present the repertoire of the company in that city during the exposition season. First of the operas to be presented here will be Donizetti's immortal "Lucia di Lammermoor," on Thursday night. While this company comes to Victoria briefly heralded, the exigencies of theatrical booking at this time account for it. Mr. E. R. Ricketts lessee of the Victoria theatre has been in correspondence with Managing Director Starling of the company for several weeks, but time was not available owing to a contract having previously been made with the Gardiner company. The closing of the latter company made it possible to bring the Boston Grand Opera company here.

This company played two weeks at the Winnipeg theatre, in Winnipeg, presenting five operas, with such distinct success that critical writers declared it the best singing organization that ever visited the city. In playing the cities lying between Winnipeg and Vancouver it was the first organization of the kind ever to visit the growing cities lying between. Among the members of the organization are Madame Judith M. Francini, prima donna soprano, whose record of achievement in grand opera is far greater than many of the established stars have found essential to their fame. In "Lucia," which has long been considered the crucial test of a soprano's right to declare herself a true prima donna, Mme. Francini has attained her best success. Signor Piero Gherardi, the tenor, was associated with the Metropolitan forces in New York. Mr. McDonald is a basso whose reputation assures him a respectful hearing, and the Misses Lois Paschall and Cora Hayden, soprano; Edward Olds, tenor; Freda Corriison, contralto; Daniel Cantori, baritone; and Giuseppe Lufick, basso, are supplemental principals of distinct worth. The chorus is composed of fresh young voices, recruited from the musical schools of Boston, many of whom are taking advantage of this trans-continental trip of the company to visit Victoria for the first time. The orchestra will be under the conductorship of Mr. Roberto Francini, and will be augmented to consistent grand opera proportions.

Adequate scenic settings are promised, and the brief season of summer grand opera appears to be worth the while of those who enjoy good music properly presented. The scale of prices announced is quite in accordance with the original idea of the management, and ought to invite consideration.

AMUSEMENTS

"Widow O'Brien"

The Pollards' Opera Company last evening gave a musical production, the "Widow O'Brien," at the Victoria Theatre, to a fair sized audience, and will repeat the performance tonight. The company includes in its number a majority of the old-time favorites of the juvenile company, now almost grown up. There is little plot to the "Widow," but sufficient framework is offered by the production to hang a number of songs, duets, etc., upon, which are rendered quite in the old time Pollard style. Teddy McNamara, Eva Moore, Ada Hind, May Pollard, Eva Pollard, Fred, Willie, and Jack Pollard, are all heard in pleasing numbers, the latter getting off a topical song with a number of local hits, which rather caught the audience.

Pantages Theatre

Direct from London, where they were received with especial favor in the highest class music halls where nothing but clever talent is recognized, Lord Johnstone and Caroline Cooke are endeavoring themselves to local amusement seekers at the Pantages this week. Joseph St. Claire, the greatest Italian harp soloist appearing in vaudeville, Trixidea and Robinson, singing and dancing fashionplates, Chas. Wallace comedian, and the regular attractions together make a swell show.

Costly Emigration Scheme.

London, June 29.—It is stated that the new scheme of emigration will cost the Salvation Army and the C. P. R. £26,000. It is expected that before the end of the year fifty families will be settled in Alberta. It is not proposed to limit the selection to men with a knowledge of farming.

Lord Beresford's Charges

London, June 29.—The Cabinet Committee appointed to investigate Lord Beresford's charges against the Admiralty and its policy of administration hopes to finish its work this week. Probably the report will not be made public but it is generally understood that the judgment of the committee will be entirely favorable to the Admiralty.

ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS

City Will Offer Esquimalt Company $850,000 and if Refused Will Expropriate

The city will take steps under the powers granted at the last session of the legislature to expropriate the undertaking of the Esquimalt Water Works company. An offer of $850,000 will be made to the company for its entire holdings and the company will have the prescribed 40 days in which to give its answer. If it decides not to accept the offer arbitration proceedings will be commenced. The decision to proceed under the authority given by the legislature was arrived at at last night's special meeting of the city council. The decision of the council was not unanimous. Aldermen Humber, Raymond, Ross, and Fullerton voting against the proposition urging instead that the city should go to Sooke for its supply as instructed to do in the referendum of January, 1908.

City Barrister Taylor, whose opinion had been asked on the point passed upon by E. P. Davis, K.C., of Vancouver, who was asked to advise as to whether the city possesses the right to expropriate the whole of the company's undertaking, stated that in his opinion it certainly does have that right and that he had always thought so.

At a recent meeting of the city council it was stated that an estimate of the value of the company's undertakings based on the provisions of the legislation recently enacted, was about $858,000. Practically this amount will be now offered by the city. Recently the city made an offer of $900,000 for the company's system, which offer was refused. That offer was more in the nature of a feeler to ascertain just what attitude the company would take, and it was not made according to the provisions of the act. Now, however, by this recent offer of the city, the whole matter will go to arbitration.

The discussion held last night on the matter was behind closed doors, and nothing but the bare announcement that the offer would be made was given to the press representatives.

esting concrete facts connected therewith is the opening of the first race-course expressly designed for exhibitions of mechanical flight. This is at Savigny-sur-Orge, twenty miles out of Paris. Here 200 acres of ground have been secured, grandstands erected and a course prepared for aviation.

Two of the most promising newcomers are M. Rougier, who is furnished with a Voisin aeroplane of the Farman type; and Mr. Latham, of English origin, who has already broken the record with an Antoinette—the firm which is already known for its aerial motor. Mr. Latham today said: "You have not heard the last of the Antoinette by a good deal, I think. It has great possibilities in it." The Antoinette is birdlike in its appearance and has not the cells forward and rearward of the Veson machine. A picturesque incident connected with the ground at Savigny was its consecration by the Catholic Archbishop of Paris, Mgr. Amette. There is something particularly appealing in this patronage by a venerable church of the newborn infant, aviation. It is a promising godchild, and will do its sponsor credit, no doubt.

HUGHEY JENNINGS TO RETAIN CLAUDE ROSSMAN

Chicago, June 29.—Any chance which the Chicago had of securing Claude Rossman of the Detroit team has been dispelled by Manager Hugh Jennings, who now declares he will retain Rossman for his hitting ability. Earlier in the season, Detroit was willing to let Rossman go to Cincinnati, but two American League clubs refused to waive one of them being Chicago. Rather than strengthen a possible rival, Jennings decided at once to keep his hard hitting first baseman.

End of Heat Wave Coming.

Washington, June 29.—Relief from the intense heat which has prevailed over the country for the past week is in sight. According to the weather bureau forecast today it will be cooler in the Middle States tonight and Wednesday. Not much change in temperature is predicted in the East or the Middle Atlantic states.

Kitset and Graves Matched.

New Orleans, La., June 29.—George Kisset, of Brooklyn, and Kid Graves, of New Orleans, were matched last night for a fight limited to ten rounds at the Royal Athletic Club on July 1. A ringside weight of 110 pounds was specified.

DROPPED MATCH IN CAN OF POWDER

Hornell, N.Y., June 29.—Yesterday Archie King, aged eight years, found a can of powder which had been thrown away by another boy, whose mother would not permit him to keep it. Last Evening Young King invited a number of children to come and "hear the big noise." When the children had gathered on the lawn of Mrs. Elster, King is said to have dropped a lighted match in the can with the result that a terrific explosion followed, injuring four children. King and a two-year-old child, Ella Elster, were so badly injured that they are said to be dying today. The other injured, Judson Elster, aged five, and Margaret Elster, aged seven, while badly burned, will recover.

ent inoperable owing to there being no room available for its installation. A sum of at least $500 is urgently needed to build a suitable room for the purpose.

During the year the roofs of the main building's corridors and laundry have been covered with fireproof material in place of shingles. Fire apparatus has been installed in the Strathcona wing and in the children's ward.

Thanks to the munificence of Mrs. J. D. Pemberton, an admirable chapel has been built and will, I hope be opened for use as soon as the necessary furnishings are completed. In the basement of this building the Women's Auxiliary have fitted up an excellent room for meetings and work.

During the year the nurses' home has been completed and furnished and opened for use. It has proved a great source of comfort to the nurses.

CORRIG COLLEGE

Beacon Hill Park, Victoria, B. C. Select High-Grade Day and Boarding College for Boys of 8 to 15 years. Refinements of well-appointed gentlemen's home in lovely Beacon Hill Park. Number limited. Outdoor sports. Prepared for Business Life or Professional or University examinations. Fees inclusive and strictly moderate. A few vacancies at winter term, January 4th. Principal J. W. CHURTON, M. A.

The Women's Auxiliary, the Daughters of Pity and the King's Daughters have continued their kind offices as in former years. Without their invaluable aid many comforts which are now enjoyed by the patients would be unobtainable.

Services have been held as usual on Sunday afternoons by the clergy of the city. Thanks are due to Miss Fox for so kindly presiding at the organ with such faithful regularity and also to Mr. Longfield for his enjoyable concert provided at Christmas.

Thanks are due to the visiting medical staff for their gratuitous services to the public ward patients and also for their lectures to the nurses.

The appointment of a house surgeon has proved a great benefit to the hospital. Patients and staff regret to lose Dr. Wallace, who was a favorite with all who came in contact with him and wish him every success in his new sphere in the north. He has been succeeded by Dr. Paul, who is proving himself a very capable and painstaking officer.

Messrs. Lee and Fraser have again certified the government monthly returns, for which grateful thanks are due.

I have again to thank the many kind donors of plants and shrubs for the beautifying of the grounds, which have suffered much from the lack of water last year, and from the severe frost of last winter.

In conclusion, I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to the board of directors who granted me six months' leave of absence after eleven years service. During this vacation I took the opportunity of learning all I could of modern hospitals and methods, from which experience I hope this hospital will benefit as much as I have done personally.

Matron's Report.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the following report of the training school for nurses for the past year. The staff at present is: Miss E. Allan, head nurse; Miss Macrae, who has charge of Strathcona ward; 22 pupil nurses, 2 probationers, and 2 male nurses.

During the year 25 applications have been received for admission. Eleven applicants were taken on probation, 10 of whom were accepted as pupil nurses. The graduating class for the year: Miss Ada Cookson, Miss Eva Allan, Miss Edie Alexander, Miss Clare Davis, Miss Mollie Milligan, Miss Mattie Marsden, Miss Hattie Thompson.

Our thanks are due to Dr. Leeder, Dr. Dolbey, Dr. Stanier, Dr. Bapty, Dr. McKicking, Dr. Wallace, Dr. Hasell, for lectures during the year.

The women's auxiliary has supplied the linen, blankets, china, cutlery, etc., and have, as usual, attended to the sewing and mending. The Daughters of Pity have kindly undertaken to see that the children's ward is supplied with everything necessary for the comfort of the children.

We would also thank the King's Daughters, who have kept the wards bright with flowers, and the many kind friends who have sent flowers, fruit, books, and magazines.

M. C. MACDONALD,
Matron.

Regrets Resignation.

H. D. Helmcken, K.C., moved the adoption of the reports. He drew attention, with particular regret, to the fact that Mr. Pemberton had stated it was not his intention to continue as a member of the board of directors. At the meeting today Mrs. Pemberton, sr., was present, and Mr. Helmcken alluded to the generosity and munificence with which she had dealt with the Jubilee hospital. It was only right that a family which had done so much for the hospital should be represented on the board. The hospital was now passing through a critical time in its history, and it wanted a man of the financial status of Mr. Pemberton to assist in the campaign to raise money.

At a meeting of the directors held a few weeks previously it was pointed out that a sum of $100,000 was necessary. In his opinion if there was a proper presentation of the needs placed before the city council, the money would be forthcoming. There was no reason to be dissatisfied with the work of the year, and he had great pleasure in moving the adoption of the reports.

These were adopted.
Mr. Helmcken subsequently moved that a hearty vote of thanks be passed to the ladies' auxiliary, the Daughters of Pity, and the King's Daughters for their good work in connection with the hospital. He had to congratulate them on the great success which had been attained through their efforts.

Seconding this motion, Aleck Wilson pointed out that the ladies were doing great work for the institution. Many years ago—in 1865—the ladies had been first to start a hospital in the city. This was exclusively for women, and the scheme at first fell through, but it was subsequently merged in the Royal Hospital. From this fact it would be seen that long before the Jubilee had come into existence the ladies of the city had been doing good work. They were now carrying out work which would otherwise fall on the shoulders of the board of directors. Too much could not be said in praising these efforts of these ladies. When one read in the papers of the work which was being done by women in Canada in connection with hospitals and other philanthropic institutions, there could only be a feeling of the profoundest gratitude.

The Amount Needed.
At a previous meeting Mrs. Rhodes had said that a sum of $100,000 was necessary for improvements to the hospital. In his opinion $200,000 would be nearer the mark. They had an example of what could be done in the city when they considered that the Y. M. C. A. had been able to an energetic campaign to raise $100,000 in a few days. He was certain that if the male portion of the board failed to raise the money that the female portion would take up the campaign and that then it would be successfully carried through. He trusted that in a year's time the Jubilee Hospital would be so far renovated as to be a credit to the city.

Continuing, he referred to the good work of improvement which had already been carried out, and said that the board could congratulate themselves having passed through another year successfully.

R. S. Day said that the scheme for hospital extension was a very pressing one. They were living in an age of expansion, and in regard to capacity the Jubilee Hospital had run behind the times. More rooms were needed and these should be of the best description.

The motion was carried unanimously. Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. Helmcken moved a vote of thanks to the outgoing officers, and alluded to their valuable services. He hoped that their able to give his services to the board. This was carried.

In speaking to this motion, Mr. Forman regretted that he had not been able to do more for the hospital, but this had been through lack of time. He eulogised the work of the ladies, and said that but for them the deficit this year would have been a great deal larger.

Mr. Pemberton thanked the meeting for the honor which had been done him in asking him to remain a member of the board. He regretted that he was unable to accede to the request, but hoped that at some future time he would be able to serve them in that capacity.

The meeting then adjourned.

Our July Sale Announcement

WE beg to announce that on Friday next, July 2nd, we are launching forth the greatest bargain and money-saving event of the year or, in fact, in the history of the store—our July Sale. This sale includes practically everything you need in Ladies' Wearing Apparel, Staple Articles, Silks, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Small Wares, Boots and Shoes, Men's Clothing, Men's Furnishings, etc.—all new, fresh, crisp merchandise. Never before have we made such astounding reductions, and have planned to make this sale a record-breaker. Many of the articles are marked at half and in some instances less than half their regular value. It therefore behooves all those wishing to purchase good, seasonable merchandise at great savings to watch our daily announcements closely, for not only will this sale make a grand sweep of the present stock, but it will be augmented from time to time with many new items of special interest. Full particulars will appear Wednesday night and Thursday morning, and we suggest that you keep a copy of this paper as you will find it a great aid to you in doing your shopping. There shall be no disappointments, as we are prepared to cope with the vast volume of business that will be done in an expeditious and satisfactory way. If you are out for making a substantial saving, do not overlook this opportunity, but be sure to watch the papers and, above all, our windows. You will find by doing this it will be of material benefit to you. Remember the opening day, Friday, July 2nd, and be at the doors sharp at 8:30. A dollar saved is a dollar earned. Come in, see for yourself, and buy.
